

Wedding Videography Information

1. Filming

In filming your wedding, we strive to capture the heart of your special day and offer customisable packages that may include filming Pre-Ceremony, Ceremony and/or your Reception. We use a minimum of 2 cameras for wedding ceremonies to ensure wide coverage and the primary camera is a professional High Definition Sony camera capable of recording in both Standard and High Definition.

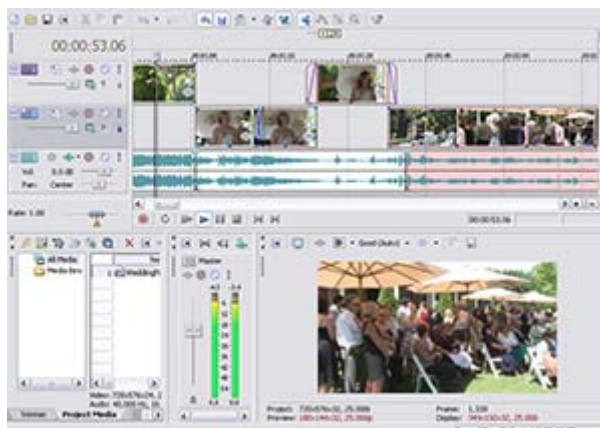

Wedding videos are also recorded in 16:9 widescreen format to ensure maximum viewing on widescreen televisions. Widescreen DVD videos display on standard full frame televisions within a black letterbox as illustrated below:

2. Editing

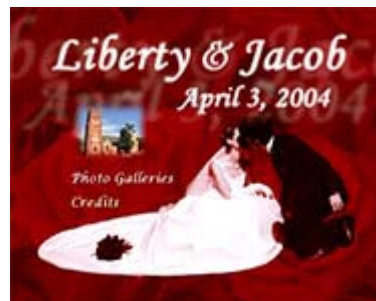

Editing is the process in which the raw video footage is digitised and selectively refined. Editing ensures the best moments from each camera are presented, with smooth transitions and fades between shots. Titles and credits are added during the editing process and commercial music is overlaid into your production, including any songs you may wish to provide.

3. Authoring

Once the video has been edited, it is professionally authored onto a tailored DVD. This includes:

- High-quality conversion to DVD format (MPEG-2)
- Custom menu screens with photo backgrounds
- Chapters/Scenes
- Background menu music (optional)
- Photo slide-shows set to music (optional)
- Scene selection (optional)

4. Duplication of final product

Your completed video will be supplied on DVD with:

- Full colour disc with cure (glossy water-proofed coating)
- Full colour cover insert
- Standard clear DVD case

(Additional copies may be ordered at any time and include AMCOS licence fees, covering all use of copyrighted music)
